

SOCIAL SUPPORT

Aims of the Session:

- To identify potential sources of social support. Generic support is helpful, but the most important support for helping relationships is support related to making the change.
- To learn to further develop your social support networks.
- To understand the importance of being a support to others.